Dr. Peter Nickias (Dow Chemical)

Friday, April 22nd, 2016 at 4:15pm

209 Havemeyer

Abstract:
This seminar will highlight several aspects of research I have conducted within Dow. The intent of the seminar presentation is several fold which is a) to provide graduate students and postdoctoral associates with an overview of the research conducted within an industrial setting b) highlight the interplay between technical success and commercial relevance c) demonstrate that a high level of science is key to commercial realization and d) highlight the diversity of research within a company such as Dow.